

—On Monday night a large mass of valuable documents, 250 years old, relating to the early history of Maryland, were formally presented to the Maryland Historical Society, at their rooms in Baltimore. The collection was obtained from Frederick Henry Harford, of England, the great grandson of Frederick, the last Lord Baltimore. The papers were found partly in an old orangery and partly buried in a field. They were purchased by the society.

Calvert Documents

Clipped By:
C_St_Reed
May 27, 2025